A Novel Idea

It has been suggested that on Christmas Eve one fo the splendid pines on Ocean Avenue near the highway be decorated with bright colors and small electric lights. The carol-singers and townspeople might gather there, and near by is the bark-covered trought, which could be used to suggest the manger. It certainly is a unique idea, and if adopted, will grow year by year into a distinctive Christmas festival.

Some Christmas Legends

There is a Bosnian legend that the sun leaps in the heavens and the stars dance around it. A great peace comes stealing down over mountain and forest. The rotten stumps stand straight and green on the hillside. The grass is beflowered with blossoms, and the birds sing on the mountain tops in thanks to God. In Poland the heavens open and Jacob's ladder is set up between earth and sky. In Austria the candles are set in the window that the Christ Child may not stumble when he comes to bless the home. In north Germany the tables are spread and the lights left burning for the incoming of the Virgin Mary and her attending angel.

The English superstition is admirably voiced by the myriad minded Shakespeare in "Hamlet:"

Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes
Wherein our Lord's birth is celebrated,
The bird of dawning singeth all night long.
And then they say no spirit can walk abroad
The nights are wholesome Then no planets strike
No fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm,
So hallowed and so gracious is the time

To Make a True Christmas.

Don't forget the lonely, the suffering, the poor, on Christmas. Remember that the first and greatest Christmas gift was sent not to the rich and powerful, but to the poor and needy. Give to those who are near and dear to you, but somewhere, somehow, in your ordinary life find some one who is near and dear to no one else and make Christmas for him or her

VEGETABLE HINTS.

Try steaming green vegetables instead of boiling them.

Soak wilted vegetables in cold water until they are crisp and fresh.

Soak celery and cabbage for 15 or 20 minutes before using so that any insects or worms will come out.

The French like peas cooked in lettuce leaves in the top of a double boiler or laid in lettuce leaves in the top of a strainer. Sometimes, too, they add a parsley leaf or a mint leaf to peas in the cooking to give them flavor, but the plain flavor of well cooked green peas is very pleasing without any additions.

Cook beets, carrots and parsnips before peeling. The skin comes off after cooking in a very economical and easy way.

Potatoes, too, may well be cooked in their jackets.

To remove the skins of tomatoes, dip them into a pan of boiling water, then chill. The skins can then be easily removed.

If you boil your vegetables, never throw away the water in which they were cooked. It contains valuable material. Use it as the basis of a soup.

Radishes, red or white, when a little too old to be eaten raw, may be cooked like turnips and served.

Beet tops are one of the most delicious of greens.

An Hour of Song

A most enjoyable recital of vocal music was given by Mrs. F. C. Pudan, assisted by Mrs. Beth Bawden, last Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Mabel Gray Young. Mrs. Pudan sang with ease and finish a difficult program of varied music, from the old Italian to the modern Russian. Mrs. Bawden's rich mezzo voice acted as a foil to Mrs. Pudan's lumpid soprano quality. The affair closed with a group of Mendelssohn duets sung by Mrs. Pudan and Mrs. Young.

The Light That Failed

Some person or persons certainly have a nerve to not only turn out a light, maintained for the public convenience, but on top of that to steal the electric bulbs. This happened recently.

For years D. W. W. Johnson has provided at the corner of Casanova street and Seventh avenue a street light. Frequently the light has been turned off by mischievous passers by and the globes broken by boys. Mr. Johnson cheerfully replaced them. Now, he declares, that rather than have the globes carried away for further use, he will stake the thief to a few new ones—plus. Illuminating, isn't it?

WEEKLY GREETING

Religion is the first thing and the last thidg, and until a man has found God and been found by God he begins at no beginning, he works at no end.—"Mr. Britling."

Red Cross Notes

The local Red Cross rooms will be open on Thursdays only, from 2 to 5, until the first of the year.

The Red Cross greeting to the home-coming soldier is to be more than a welcome. It is to extend itself as far as need demands. If a soldier drops into his home town with a feeling that possibly no place is waiting for him, the Red Cross will make it its business to remove that possible condition.

International correspondence, which is a feature of the Junior Red Cross work in the Pacific Division, is showing large results. The intention was to create a feeling of comradeship between the American and foreign children. In a group of letters received from Juniors, one is addressed, "To Some Child in Belgium, from an American Friend.

Tonight's Concert

Seldom does it happen that an artist of the attainments of Isia Seligman performs in a community of the size of Carmel, therefore the lovers of music here should turn out in large numbers tonibgt to hear this master of the keys.

On Mr. Seligman's last appearance here, Arts and Crafts Hall was crowded to the doors, and those present showed their appreciation of his talents in no uncertain manner. A fine program has been prepared for tonight, and the splendid advance sale of tickets should be supplemented by a generous box office sale.
